

IAUKEA SUCCEEDS KAHANAMOKU AS POLICE CAPTAIN

Sergeant Promoted to Job Vacated By Officer to Escape Facing Charges

Frederick H. Iaukea, for years identified with the police department, who has won promotion from roundsman and clerk to first-class sergeant, will tomorrow morning don the star of captain of police, taking over the position vacated by the resignation of Captain Duke Kahanamoku.

Sergeant Iaukea is the first choice of Sheriff Charles Rose. He has been selected to fill the responsible position from a number of eligible police officers. He has been connected with the police for more than a decade. The elevation of Iaukea from the rank of police sergeant leaves a vacancy which will be filled by the promotion of S. E. Poaha, now a clerk at the central station. It was announced today that it was the intention of Sheriff Rose to elevate Poaha because of his record for efficiency and attention to duty.

Sheriff Rose has a number of names on the civil service list as eligibles for appointment to the police department in a clerical capacity. The position to be vacated by Poaha will be filled by one of these.

A new substitution officer is expected to take up his duties within a few days. This position has been vacant since the resignation of M. H. Almeida.

The sheriff this morning received and immediately accepted the resignation of Captain Kahanamoku as a police officer.

Kahanamoku was charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman. Investigation of charges had reached a stage where the officer volunteered his resignation rather than face a civil service hearing of the series of allegations filed with the sheriff.

"Captain Kahanamoku asked to be relieved from further duty," said Sheriff Rose today. "About all I have to say is that I have accepted his resignation. As far as I know any charges that may have been filed against the officer in the department has been dropped."

Madsen Remained With His Ship.
M. A. Madsen, chief officer in the Matson steamer Manoa, will retain his position in that vessel for the present despite the announcement made by the harbor commission some days ago that his name had been considered as a possible successor to J. F. Haglund, assistant harbor master, now appointed a harbor pilot. Chief Officer Madsen was on duty in the Manoa when it left Pier 19 for San Francisco yesterday afternoon. The appointment of a deputy harbor master may not be made for some weeks. Capt. Foster, harbor master, will command the service of Capt. Haglund whenever required until the position of deputy is filled.

RELIGIOUS TALKS MADE AT AD CLUB LUNCHEON TODAY

To be in keeping with the spirit of Holy Week the program of the Ad Club luncheon today was of a religious nature, with Dr. W. H. Fry of the Methodist missions in Hawaii, and Rev. David C. Peters of the Christian church as main speakers.

After the regular business in the course of which President Farrington suggested an advertising survey of Honolulu's business houses, an invitation was extended to any visitors who wished to join the club. Mrs. Betty Brown, accompanied by Miss Edith Gatsfield, sang "Perfect Day," which was encored.

Dr. Fry spoke on "What Some Men Make of Religion." He said religion is an experience, but not a creed, an inspiration rather than a restraint, and a program for this life rather than an insurance for the life to come.

"The present war," said Dr. Fry, "has led to considerable ridicule of Christianity. No less a personage than President Elliot of Harvard declared that the turmoil now raging in Europe proves the Christian ethics of the past 20 years to be at fault."

"The trouble is that the governments of today lack faith. They go back to the Romans for their policies and not to Christ for the governments would not be in the trouble they are today if they followed His teachings."

Dr. Fry advocates a revival of old-time convictions to remedy the rut into which the world seems to have fallen, and predicts a general turning to God when the war in Europe has spent its force.

Rev. Peters cited many experiences of life in the early west to illustrate his subject of "What Religion Has Made of Some Men." He spoke of the power of religion in rehabilitating the human life and supported his statements with personal experiences.

LETTERS

ENSIGN PARKER, OF MURRAY, KY.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: In this great sorrow that has fallen upon a happy community I beg to say one word as a tribute to the noble son of Kentucky who, with the entire crew—less one man—went down with the F-4. True to the precepts and history of his grand old state, he died in the performance of his duty. The recording angel smilingly added one more name, Ensign Parker, to the long roll of Kentucky's noble sons. In honor sake, and thine, long will his memory live in the hearts of his, of the people of his state, as also in shipmates, classmates and friends.
A KENTUCKIAN.

Garcia's two bills relating to registration of land patents passed the house today.

Fernandez's bill prohibiting misleading advertising passed the house today after the introducer had explained that the merchants of the city were supporting the measure.

Representative Kupihua bitterly attacked Coney's bill to empower the board of health in investigations against adulterated food and drugs in the house today, but the bill passed just the same.

The next public hearing of the house agriculture committee on the investigation of small farmers and home-steaders' contracts with sugar mill corporations will be held in the house of representatives at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

The time-worn resolution extending the legislature's vote of thanks to Delegate Kuhio failed to pass unanimously in the house yesterday. Representative Watkins and Cooke registering decisive negative votes. Representative Brown was absent.

The question of confirming John Effinger's appointment as Hawaii fair commissioner again came before the senate yesterday afternoon, but because two members were absent Senator Wirtz moved that action be deferred further until next Monday. The motion carried.

In committee of the whole the senate today undertook consideration of Rice's measure, S. B. 71, which would raise the income tax from 2 to 3 per cent, exempting incomes of less than $2000. This is one of the most sweeping changes in the territory's financial system suggested during the present session.

The governor signed three bills Monday, among them the brewery measure, which now extends the franchise of the Honolulu Brewing and Malting Company to March 29, 1930. This was S. B. 18, introduced in the upper house by Senator R. H. Makekua.

The governor also signed H. B. 53, introduced by Capt. Evan da Silva, as Act 31, providing that banks may be established with a minimum capitalization of $100,000; and H. B. 78, introduced by Norman K. Lyman, as Act 32, permitting applicants for jobs in the board of health department to elect to take their civil service examinations in the Hawaiian language.

"Laughing gas" caused the death of Dr. Thomas D. Bailey, a dentist of Montclair, N. J., who was found dead in his office. His death is believed to be an accident.

LAST CHANCE FOR AUTO OWNERS TO ESCAPE ARREST

Several hundred automobile owners in Honolulu will be subject to arrest beginning tomorrow morning, because of failure to comply with the new city and county ordinance, which requires a new registration of machines at police headquarters.

Deputy Sheriff Asen and a staff of station clerks attended to a long line of applicants today. Owners of machines formed a procession leading into the sheriff's office. Cars were parked along Merchant, Bethel and Nuuanu streets.

Today is the last opportunity to register cars and motor trucks before the imposition of the penalty prescribed by the new law. At noon today 950 applications for enrollment had been filed with the sheriff. New number plates have not been issued because of a delay in their arrival from the coast. The owner or driver of every machine has been advised to display a temporary number until the metal signs are ready for delivery. The $1 registration fee includes the cost of the numbering plates, one to be attached to the front and the other to the rear of the machine. Under the new regulation it is no longer necessary to carry the car number on the lamps.

The registration of machines will close at police headquarters at 9 o'clock this evening. Tomorrow morning officers will be instructed to scour the streets and highways for all motor driven vehicles which have not been brought to headquarters for enrollment. Each owner will be subjected to a fine of $5 and costs.

In nearly every instance the applicant has been permitted to retain the former number carried by the car. In cases where a car has been withdrawn from service because of damage or removal to another part of the Territory, the number will be forfeited. All cars which have not been registered by the police will forfeit their numbers.

Machines are weighed free of charge at the California Feed Company. The owner is given a certification of weight, its number and date of manufacture. This information is declared to be essential in applying for a certificate of registration.

The police estimate the total number of motor cars and trucks on this island at a trifle less than 1800. More than 2200 numbers have been issued under former registration.

Nielsen Back at Diamond Head.

Capt. Niels C. Nielsen, for many years watchman at Diamond Head station, has returned to duty after an illness of several weeks. Capt. Nielsen was obliged to take treatment at the hospital for an injured leg. While not completely recovered, the veteran navigator and maritime expert will be able to follow the arrival of incoming foreign shipping again, much to the gratification of local business interests, who faithfully rely upon his reports. Capt. Nielsen is credited with being the best posted man at the port on flags, rigging and tonnage of vessels. His knowledge of deep-sea craft, both sail and steam, insures accuracy in the reports which are sent daily from Diamond Head to port officials and others.

From its name, it might be inferred that Osteopathy deals only with the adjustments of the bones. This idea is erroneous.
